I'm a Full-Stack Developer that is passionate about coding and technology. I have completed an intensive 24 week long bootcamp at the University of Central Florida in Full Stack Web Development. Now equipped with a variety of programming languages like HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, React, MERN and many more web technologies. I am eager to apply my newly founded skills to contribute to any inventive projects and have a positive impact in the tech industry.

Have a background mostly in hospitality roughly 5 years so I'm no stranger to problem solving. I have the ability to thrive in dynamic environments where creativity and teamwork are valued. I'm excited to be able to apply my skills to real-world scenarios.

Open to networking opportunities, mentorship , and new challenges. I'm keen to connect with professionals in the tech community. Can't wait to collaborate, learn from each other, and make meaningful change together.
